Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

The amendment filed on July 12, 2004 has been received and considered. By this amendment, claims 1-20 and 46 are now pending in the application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 4-8, 12-20 and 46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nelson et al (US 2002/0004424) in view of Kagan et al (US patent No. 5,618,045).

a. As per claim 1, 4-5, 7-8, and 13, Nelson discloses a mobile terminal that is capable of receiving a task (paragraph 0062); providing two response options to a first player including sending a response to a task receiver; receiving a player input selecting an option; and performing the selected response option (paragraphs 0063-0064). Further, since Nelson discloses a wireless PDA (paragraphs 0002 and 0037) that is well known to include a processor and a transceiver for sending, receiving, and processing data, Nelson obviously discloses the processor and transceiver. Nelson does not disclose forwarding the task to a second mobile terminal. However, Nelson discloses including a task passing function (paragraphs 0063-0064). Further, Kagan suggests transmitting actions to other player terminals (abstract). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to pass the task of Nelson to a second player as suggested by Kagan in order to facilitate interaction play between the players.

b. As per claim 6, providing a task in a form of physical task or a proof of the completed physical task as preferred by a designer's preference requires only routine skill in the art.

c. As per claim 12, Nelson discloses performing steps ii-iv with a predetermined amount of time (paragraph 0077).

d. As per claim 16, Kagan discloses playing the game in a team (col. 5, lines 1-7).

e. As per claim 14-15, 18-20, and 46, refer to discussion in claims 1, 12, 5, and 7-8 above.

f. As per claim 17, Nelson discloses registering the player with the game server (paragraph 0047).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 2-3 and 9-11 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the objections, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

4. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Prior arts of record do not disclose a mobile terminal which includes a processor and a transceiver and performs the steps recited in claim 1 and in combination with the limitations cited in claim 2 or claim 3; the mobile terminal receives a player input selecting one of the two response options and displays an error message when the player attempts to perform a non-selected response option; the player input selecting one of the two response options comprises an identity of a second player.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 4-8, 12-20 and 46 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground of rejection.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action. Any response to this final action should be mailed to:
